HOLMES AT HOME IN CAVAN

by Owen McConnon BBC Sport

Mayo manager Pat Holmes returns to Cavan to-day with a Mayo team who are unbeaten in the current league. He and his team have produced what looks like a real winning formula for the year 2001. Hopes are high that national honours may not be too far away and a league title would be nice to start with.

Planning without the Crossmolina players because of their important All-Ireland Club final meeting with Nemo Rangers in Croke Park tomorrow, Mayo have shown in this league campaign that they will be real championship contenders later this year.

Pat Holmes will know Cavan's style of play having played club football with current league champions Cavan Gaels.

Many will say that this game to-day is of no real importance with Mayo already in the league semi-final and Cavan clear of the relegation zone. However it is important from a Cavan view point in that if the league structure were to change it would be to Cavan's advantage to finish in the top four teams in division 1B.

Cavan's interest in qualification really ended in Kingscourt and there was further disappointment on Sunday last when Derry collected the league points.

Cavan may not have reached the knockout stages of the league but there are signs that come May 27th the Breffni side will be in a confident mood of meeting and beating Down. Cavan did reach the division 2 league semi final last year and that proved little help when the championship came around.

Mayo will use this outing to-day as a warm up for their semi-final slot with the thoughts of the championship not far away, but will Mayo or Cavan have any silverware at the end of the year, that is a 6 million dollar (sorry 60 million pound) question which few can answer.

Quiz Page
